INDIA RUBBER HORSESHOES .- The propos d substitution of India rubber for metal in the manufacture of horseshoes is based upon various supposed advantages, one of these being that the former enables a horse to go easier over all kinds of roads and rough or slippery ground without slipping. The contrivance brought forward for this purpose is such as to obviate in one instance the necessity of using an iron shoe, which can be moved momentarily when the horse is shod with an iron shoe. According to this design the shoe consists of an India rubber bottom piece moulded to fit over or around the frog of the boof, with a ledge or protec-ting rim rising up the front and around the level where the pails are clamped, the projection having an edge under which a steel pand other appliance can be drawn and pipped tight to retain the rubber shoe. The nipped tight to retain the rubber shoe. The band or is connected by 8 uds, which pass through the heal part of the boof, this being ent away from the inner side for the purpose, and the stud or studs may work eccentrically to obtain grip or fixing. If the rubber shoe is used with an iron shoe the frog portion or pad has a front plate and two side wings partially imbedded in it to hold the rubber shoe in place. If the rubber shoe be divided or made thin in the centre, a swivel or other bar can be contracted from the rear to reduce the width of the pad, so that it enters easily and also expands so as to fix the rubber shoes in position.—Mechanical News.
